Standardization and Innovation in Mariachi Music Performance in Los Angeles

By Steven Ray Pearlman

Abstract: Mariachi Music is one of the most popular musics in Los Angeles. There is a substantial Mexican population and an almost continual influx of Mexican immigrants, including musicians, into the Los Angeles area. A natural laboratory is thus established in which tendencies both toward standardization in the performance of traditional and popular materials and toward innovation are observable.

Mariachi Music is one of the most popular musics in Los Angeles. There is a substantial Mexican population and an almost continual influx of Mexican immigrants, including musicians, into the Los Angeles area. A natural laboratory is thus established in which tendencies both toward standardization in the performance of traditional and popular materials and toward innovation are observable.

For full article download .pdf of journal [1]

Source URL: https://ethnomusicologyreview.ucla.edu/journal/volume/1/piece/523

Links:
[1] http://ethnomusicologyreview.ucla.edu/sites/default/files/prevol1_0.pdf